

Wisconsin has a good no call list law on the books and it should be left alone. The federal government should not be interfering with state laws.